This One's For You

Was there ever a time when you felt the school left you out? Did you feel that you were just another pretty face in a crowd? Possibly you felt that way once. But as time progressed, you realized that even though you didn't always understand the things that were happening in school, those things were all being done for you.

Every facet of Bassett is designed for your benefit. The teams do their darndest, not just for personal glory, but for you to be proud of them. Teachers sometimes give you lectures, but they are doing so because they care and it's to your advantage to learn from them. The Principal, Assistant Principals, Counselors, Directors and Coordinators, the office and cafeteria staff, security, custodians and all others do their jobs to the very best of their abilities just for you.

These are remarkable people and they dedicate their talents to you. Like them, we wish to dedicate something special to you — this book. We, on the annual staff, feel that being a part of Bassett gives us responsibilities to you. In accepting these responsibilities we have done our very best and have put forth all our efforts. So here it is, the fruit of long, long hours, sweat, dedication, frantic work to meet deadlines and love. We hope you enjoy it as much as we do. So read up, 'cause THIS ONE'S FOR YOU.

Registration

Registration! We all look forward to it in two different ways: Bullet-sweating anxiety or eager anticipation. But like death and taxes, it will always be with us. Freshmen feel somewhat disturbed by the new surroundings before them. It's just like starting over. It is their first step to maturity and to accepting responsibility for their actions. In contrast to this, others enjoy registering. Seeing old friends and making new ones seem to alleviate the nervousness that abounds. They don't seem to mind the lines and long waits because it gives them more opportunity to literally reach out and touch someone. Choosing our own classes might be old hat to us seniors, but for the freshmen, it is a new adventure. The last registration day was a hectic day, I kid you not. Some people just woke up, and you can tell this by the drooping eyelids. Personally, I hate waiting in line because when you get into the library, you get into another line. The weather that day can make a tremendous difference, because the line does not have any shade. But, after the session, everyone breathes a sigh of relief, for the next registration date is a year away!!

What's A FRIEND?

One day I decided to thumb through my dictionary to find a word that means so much to me, and here's what I found: "friend (frend) n. a person whom one knows well and is fond of." But, as I think about it, I feel that this definition does not, and cannot, fully describe the true meaning of "friend", here in Bassett, or anywhere else

As we move forward

through our high school years we find rapport with one who has the same dream, who will remain steadfast through thick and thin, sharing our moments of triumph and the bitter taste of defeat

This person, your friend, can be closer to you than your own flesh and blood. I cannot put on paper what I cannot fully comprehend, for friendship is felt, rather than written, shown or said

Chow Time

Most of the students at B H S look forward to lunch time. Lunch is a time when friends get together to relax and talk about different subjects, get into arguments with their boy or girl friend, tell how they're doing in their classes, and a lot of time just gossip.

Another reason why students look forward to lunch is simply to eat lunch. Even though the food isn't as good as a real restaurant's food the students still eat it.

But, of course, before you get your food you'll have to stand in a line to get it. There are a couple of reasons why students don't like to stand in line to get their food. One reason is because the sun is so hot, and we students aren't used to the heat! A second reason is because a lot of students step in front of you without your permission. When you first get in the lunch line, at the snack bar area, you might be fourth or fifth but by the time people stop sneaking in front of you, you could be near the end of the line. Although efforts are being made to eliminate this problem, when you arrive at the window your favorite food may be already sold to those who were ahead of you.

One of the most exciting moments at lunch time is when a person of the opposite sex walks by you and your friends, and all you do is fantasize. You would be surprised at some of these fantasies! Lunch time can be either fun or boring. It's just what you and your friends make it.

▲ David Aguilar scarfs out!

▲ Tracy Arballo, Linda Cullen, and Lupe Ortega laugh at the thought of waiting in the lunch line for hours.

A Typical Class Session

We all have experienced, obviously, the rigors of a typical class session. When that bell rings, we are immersed in topics that would help us through life, like Geometry, Trigonometry, Psychology, English, etc. With this constant bombardment, I'm surprised that we're not all walking encyclopedias.

A class session is not all fun and games. Oh, no, no, no. We have to conform to different rules and different personalities that the teachers have. Listening to lectures sometimes can be a drag but, as you know, it is for our own benefit.

One has to admit that there are unexpected times when class becomes an interesting and a fun place to be. There are also times when conflicts arise, sad to say. But, all in all, a typical session isn't really all that bad. Sure, there are pros and cons as in all things. But the bottom line is, after all the hardships that we must endure, we all come out smarter and perhaps better persons than before.

Homecoming Activities

What A Night!

Our 1982 Homecoming festivities were celebrated on October 15th and 16th with a Pep Rally, a royal court, floats, cheering and football.

During the Pep Rally on Friday the court was introduced. That evening the Olympians pitted themselves against Sierra Vista, ending in a 7-7 tie. The half time show was the highlight of the evening. The Homecoming dance was held Saturday evening. Emotion was high during the peak event of the evening when David Guzman was announced Homecoming King and a former Queen, Michelle Delgado, crowned her sister, Sandra Delgado, the new Homecoming Queen.

Spirit Week

A Smash Success

The 1982-83 Olympian Spirit Week was something completely different. The Associated Student Body decided to change the typical dress-up days to modern up to date trends so that the entire student body could participate. B.H.S.'s spirit days consisted of Punk Day, Backwards Day, Clash Day, Preppy Day, and of course, the traditional Black and Gold Day. Various contests between the classes were held during lunch which enabled the students to show their dynamic school spirit and pride. Overall the Homecoming Spirit Week was a great success and was shared enthusiastically by all.

Halloween

A Day of Spooks

This is the time of the year when all ghosts and goblins come out to have a little fun. Halloween Day here at Bassett High School brought out students from all grade levels participating for this dress up day. There were our average ghosts, goblins, witches, and draculas, but not all costumes were of just spooks. There were also clowns, waitresses, baseball players and some unknowns roaming around campus. Students enjoyed trying to guess whose familiar face was under those not so familiar masks. The highlight of the day was during lunch when a costume contest was sponsored by the Associated Student Body. Jamie Sousa walked off with the first place award, while Maria Cortez was given second place and Tod Sears third place. All costumes were superb and all those who participated are highly appreciated for making this day interesting and enjoyable.

New Traditions

New traditions were set this year at the Winter Formal. Not only was the dance held in the gym, but the elections were also conducted differently. The Administration and Associated Student Body wanted more support from the students, so this year the candidates had to be publicly nominated as well as voted for. The new process of voting proved to be a success.

Grade Point Averages were also eliminated this year. The Administration and Associated Student Body thought that a student's G.P.A. was not relevant to running for court. The proud winners are King: Cesar Arellano, Queen: Elizabeth Abejar, Senior Princess: Josie Gonzales, Junior Princess: Debbie Kelly, Sophomore Princess: Cynthia Velasquez, and there was a tie for Freshman Princess: Nati Alvarez and Sally Palacios. We thank all who ran for court. There were really no losers at all!

Best of Times

This year's Winter Formal was unique in that the dance was held in the Gym. The Associated Student Body and the Administration agreed that having the Winter Formal in the gym would be more reasonable considering that the date December 17 was so close to Christmas.

The Administration and Associated Student Body hope to start a new tradition of having the Winter Formal held in the gym. The Associated Student Body and the Honor Society worked hard to make the gym look as nice as possible. With the lights projected by "Genesis," Christmas trees, Elves, giant candy canes, lamps and, of course, Santa Claus you could barely tell that it was the gym. Overall, the dance this year was a success

(Ms. Watts' baby)

A Blissful Event

On Nov. 4, 1982, Ms. Carolyn Watt Pruitt gave birth to Brian Reynolds Pruitt, a bouncing baby boy at 12:11 pm in the Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital. Ms. Watt, an assistant principal in charge of attendance and discipline was often asked at the time of her pregnancy why she was still working. She said that her health was excellent and since the baby was in no danger whatsoever, she decided to work as efficiently as always. She added that if she stopped working and stayed home, she would be bored to death and she would terribly miss the students and faculty. For this main reason she worked until the day before the baby was born. Both the students and the faculty welcomed her back with open arms.

Shortened Pep Rallies

There's been a change in spirit here at Bassett. This year Bassett seemed to have the problem of students leaving the pep rallies before they were over. The Administration decided to come up with a solution to this problem: shortened pep rallies. If students don't want to stay that long, why make them? So the rallies were shortened to a half-hour. But then came complaints about their being shortened. (Also, that they were boring.) But when the complainers were asked for better ideas, they had none. The organizers do their best to make the rallies spirited. They felt it was a good move to shorten the rallies. It gives the students less time to get bored. Shortened pep rallies have helped the spirit at the rallies. But the most important part is you, the B H S. student. You make the rallies what they are, and if spirit is shown, shortened or not, it can be a nice memory to look back on.

Pink and Grey Invasion

This year many fads came and went but one of the most memorable fads was Pink and Grey everything! Almost everybody could be spotted sporting the fashionable colors. Everything from pink tennis shoes to pink oxford shirts could be seen around B H S. campus. This year Pink and Grey really hit it off; who knows what the fashionable colors will be next?

P.T.A. Standout

Mrs. Barbra Lee Gudbrandsen is a credit to the community and the P.T.A. She gave her time and talent unselfishly to the P.T.A. since 1968 in various positions. She moved into the Bassett area in 1961.

Her wide involvement has ranged from taking charge of membership cards, handling the snack bar for football and basketball games, helping her husband with the scholarship program sponsored by the P.T.A. which raises four or five hundred dollars each year. She also worked four years as a Band Booster and raised money to send the Small World Minstrels to Canada in 1975 by raising and selling plants.

She started with P.T.A. at Erwin Elementary, worked at Edgewood Middle School and is now at Bassett High. Her two children started school at Bassett. One is now in the ninth grade and the other, a 1981 Bassett High grad, now attends San Diego State University.

When asked why she does all these things Mrs. Gudbrandsen replied, "I like to do it and also enjoy it very much." Her attitude and her ability to accomplish so much for people makes her stand out as a prime example of a fine human being. We greatly appreciate you, Mrs. Gudbrandsen!

Something to do!

Sports' Night was held on Wed. November 17, 1983. It was set up by A.S.B. to give B.H.S. students something to do in the evenings besides watching T.V. The cost to get into Sports' Night was 10¢. They had music, snacks, and games to play besides kicking back with friends and talking. There were many B.H.S. students who showed up for this recreational event.

▼ Mr. Rosenstein, a new teacher at Bassett, teaches ninth grade Social Studies. He is also the Advisor of the Junior class and sponsored the 1983 Junior Senior Prom, "Just You and I" which was held at the Sheraton Hotel in Newport.

▲ Although sad at the departure of their 1982 Drama teacher, the Drama Department managed successful performances in 1983. The talent and organization of Mrs. Bellow, Bassett's new Drama teacher, helped the club produce several wonderful plays at Bassett High.

World News World News World News

"A New Life In The Palace"

"This is a special report," a statement you probably heard while watching television on June 21, 1982. That is because it was the day Princess Diana, wife of Prince Charles, gave birth to a baby boy, one who will grow up as a prince and someday be the king of Great Britain.

The long awaited news spread around the world. People were overjoyed, especially in Britain. The British celebrated the birth of William Phillip George, as we do the Fourth of July in the United States. Firecrackers were popping up into the air with their delightful different colors, news reporters and cameramen waited outside St. Mary's Hospital in London, while rain came pouring down, and anxious people were yelling, "Hail to the new born child of the prince!"

Indeed, though it seemed like a fairy tale story, it was a truly magnificent event which will go down in history.

Reaganomics

In these hard times in the U.S., when the nation's deficit is outrageous and unemployment rose above the 10% mark, Americans turned to the Government for help. President Reagan introduced his budget plan, or Reaganomics. Simply put, Reagan's plan is to beef up the military forces, cut down on government spending and cut taxes. A hopeful sign since Reaganomics is the drop of 2% in unemployment which is a bright light in a gloomy tunnel. This is just a small beginning on a long road toward recovery.

"It's A Miracle"

"U-C-L-A. UCLA!" the million fans of the UCLA Bruins shouted out loud while shaking their blue and gold pom-poms up high.

For the UCLA Bruins it was an unforgettable year. The Bruins never thought they would ever make it to the Rose Bowl. After losing a heartbreak to Washington 10-7, they would have to defeat Stanford and USC in their final two games, which they did. In addition, Washington had to beat Arizona State, Washington State had to upset Washington, and Arizona had to upset Arizona State. Very unlikely indeed! But somehow everything fell into place and on January 1, 1983, the UCLA Bruins were in the Rose Bowl playing against Michigan. It was a game in which the Bruins became the 1983 Rose Bowl Champions by defeating Michigan 21-14.

Indeed, it was a truly remarkable way for the Bruins to start the new year. It seemed like a "Miracle!"

It Comes From The Heart

Thanks to an innovation called Jarvic Seven (an artificial heart) a man named Barney Clark is alive today. This retired dentist from Suburban Seattle was stricken with a mysterious viral infection which made his cardiac muscle grow swollen and flabby.

The prototype, a bulky system known as a plastic heart, actually consists of valves. The drive lines go through the 'heart,' then to the heart driver that powers this amazing machine. The 'heart' itself is not impressive to look at. It actually looks like a plumbing fixture.

This is a breakthrough that may help many cardiac patients — give people who might otherwise die a second chance to live.

Clark's implant, now functioning reasonably well, had some problems. The valves in his unit were impeded by some defects which were corrected and now the future looks brighter for him, and hopefully, for other cardiac patients.

Rock 'n' Roll at its best' is one way to describe the jammin' 3 day "US Festival" September 3, 1982 was the beginning of California's Rock 'n' Roll Party located at Glen Helen Park near Denour Calif. The party lasted throughout the Labor Day weekend. People traveled from all over the world to be a part of the historic Rock 'n' Roll event. The concert consisted of people, music, computers, beer, more people and even more music. Steve Wozniak, creator of the Apple Computer, was the sponsor of this big bash. The concert all started in his head when he thought of a fantastic idea, to throw the party of the century and be able to see all his favorite groups and share them with thousands of people. He invited some of the biggest groups in the music business. Groups such as the Police, Pat Benetar, Fleetwood Mac, Oingo Boingo, The Kinks, Eddie Money, The Cars, Tom Petty, The B'52's, Jackson Browne, The Ramones, English Beat, Santana, Talking Heads, and the Grateful Dead, just to mention a few. An estimated 300,000 people braved the heat, crowds, and dust to hear three days of rock music. Wozniak spent $12.5 million dollars to organize the "US Festival". Wozniak hired rock promoter Bill Graham. Partygoers paid about $37.50 for three days of music and $17.50 for one day. Throughout the 3 days temperatures up to 106, sun and second-stage smog alerts bothered some, but not all, who attended. As the "US Festival" ended, across the green readout screen flowed white letters over and over again: "They said it couldn't be done" But Steve Wozniak proved them wrong.

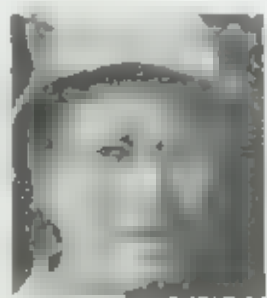

E.T. toys, E.T. bubble gum, E.T. underwear? E.T. is everywhere. And it's one of the greatest things to hit us since movie films. But that could be because they both have something in common. E.T. is a movie which swept the nation. We've always been set to believe that aliens are dangerous. There have been several movies which make the alien the bad guy. Now, all of a sudden they bring out a movie about a little guy that gets left on earth by his fellow aliens. Now this little alien can't even hurt a fly. This was something new to the movie goers. It made such a hit that businesses from all over used E.T. to attract their buyers. Toy sellers were selling E.T. toys, from E.T. glasses to E.T. puzzles. And now it's hit one of the biggest businesses today. And that's Video Games. There is now a video game called E.T. You can play this right along with your Pac Man and your Space Invaders. E.T. has been a big part of everyone's life this year. E.T. should be remembered for a long time. Just like Disneyland's very own Mickey, E.T. will go down in history.

SUPERBOWL XVII

This year's Super Bowl game was played at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena Calif. The game was between the Miami Dolphins, winners of the AFC (American Football Conference) and the Washington Redskins, winners of the NFC (National Football Conference). Washington came out with the win 27-17 but it wasn't easy at first. Miami started out ahead with a record return kick by Fulton Walker of Miami. He ran for 98 yards for a touchdown which gave Miami the lead. Miami led at the end of the first half but the second half was more Washington than Miami. Washington had most of the breaks going for them mainly because of one man, running back John Riggins. Riggins carried the ball real well with a lot of help from his offensive line. By the time the quarter had ended Washington had it mainly wrapped up. All it took was some little plays by Washington to help them secure the win, so they relied on Riggins. Besides the record breaking of Miami's Walker, Riggins set his own Super Bowl record. Besides being MVP he broke the record of most rushes, most yardage and longest touchdown run. It was a very well played game for both of the teams but Washington enjoyed it the most.

MILESTONES

Henry Fonda, one of the greatest stars of all time died at the age of 77, on August 11, 1982, of a heart attack. He will be well remembered for many of his 85 films, especially, "On Golden Pond" for which he won an Oscar.

Karen Carpenter died of a heart attack February 4, 1983 at the young age of 32. Since 1969 she sang with her brother Richard, of the clean-cut Carpenters. Together they made such beautiful ballads as, "Close To You" and "We've Only Just Begun," selling 80 million records and tapes, and winning three Grammy Awards.

The death of Grace Kelly,

Princess of Monaco, former star of the American Screen was met with much sadness. She died unexpectedly on September 13, 1982 at the age of 52. A stroke caused her to crash while driving. She had a charm, grace and dignity which made her a Princess in every sense.

Ingrid Bergman came to the U.S. from Sweden at 23, and quickly captured the hearts of Middle America. She was 67 years of age when she died on September 21, 1982. Her roles as an actress ranged from spies and victims, to a victor, as in her last film, "A Woman Called Golda."

It was an exciting and honorable experience Yvette Morales commented to be the leader of a Sensational Class.

Being involved with our class as Senior Officers was very rewarding. Teresa Martinez (Vice Pres.) and Lourdes Chadez (Secretary) agreed.

It was fantastic handling all that money," stated Luisa Pinedo. Their responsibilities ranged as far as ordering and designing the Senior Class T-Shirts to organizing the final activity of the 1983 Senior Class, the Commencement Exercises.

♥ The twins Stephanie and Stacie Sena cause you to make another decision - "Who's Who?"

Decisions!

There are so many decisions to be made when you become a senior. Some decisions are major, important decisions, and some are less important.

"How should I act now that I'm a Senior?" "How should I dress?" "Should I go to College?" "If I go to college, what should I major in?" "What college should I go to?" "Shall I marry HIM or shall I say GOODBYE?" "Shall I get a job or shall I just bum around?"

Some of these questions need a lot of thought to make the right decisions for the future. It takes courage and careful consideration to make it through the year successfully. Really, being a senior can be a very important time in your life.

“So Good At Being Bad”

Seniors are the best looking, most popular and most mischievous students in the whole school. Ask anyone and they'll tell you that seniors are "good at being bad." Why? because they've been through all the stages of Student Paranoia.

As a Freshman, you still hide behind your mother's skirt, afraid to try anything new. As a Sophomore you start getting daring. An example you may remember is sneaking out of fourth period five minutes early to be first in the lunch line. As a Junior you finally get the hang of it. You know exactly when security goes on their coffee breaks, or when Ms. Watt is in one of her parent conferences. But as a Senior you have grown out of all the early stages of Student Paranoia. You are now at the top of that big big ladder. You are a "pro" at signing your parents' names on your excuses for being absent, sweet talking the teachers, and hiding emotions like fear-of-getting-caught. Just face it! Seniors know what it takes to be "so good at being bad."

We Have Seniority

Seniority is the name of the game. As a Senior, you rule the school and have all the privileges that the underclassmen dream of. An example of this is being able to see the front side of all the performances at the pep rallies. Seniors also have their own special hangout in the quad area at lunch time, and no underclassmen would dare to take over this spot while Seniors are around.

Being a Senior is terrific because of all the different privileges that only Seniors have. Another example of this is being able to run for King or Queen at Homecoming, for the Christmas Ball and for the Junior-Senior Prom. But finally you know you have achieved Seniority when you walk down that aisle and receive your diploma.

“Forever Friends.”

Friendship means more than it ever meant before. And with time, will mean much more. The kindness, the warmth, the joy and the fears, the 'goodtimes' and love, the 'badtimes' and tears. It's learning to share, knowing to give, showing you care and loving to live. It's fitting in without having to try, it's not being scared to let out a cry. Remember when the time comes to part, friends will still be together deep down in their hearts. Need less to say, this poem's at its end, so please just remember it was written for a friend

Senioritis

Teachers have been witness to a strange disease among students. The weird thing is that it only affects seniors. The disease is known by the name of SENIORITIS. Many teachers have found that the symptoms of SENIORITIS start to appear in seniors in the second semester of school.

The early stages of SENIORITIS are not too bad

Seniors may start to slack off in homework and miss 1st and 2nd periods because they have overslept.

Once seniors get to the 2nd stage of SENIORITIS their teachers really start to worry.

This is when seniors start to change in body color. Some get really tanned while others turn a deep, hot red caused from an overpowering desire to go to the beach instead of school. Another symptom in the second stage of SENIORITIS is forgetfulness. Some examples are: forgetting that school starts on Monday and not Tuesday, or going off campus for lunch and forgetting to come back for the rest of their classes.

The third stage of SENIORITIS is the worst. Seniors become unrecognizable by teachers since they are rarely at school. Attendance clerks have learned to recognize seniors by looks alone, and have heard practically every excuse thought up. In the end the seniors recover from SENIORITIS just in time to make up all the assignments they've missed. The best thing about SENIORITIS is that you can only catch it once in your life.

At Last

Senior year is emotionally one of the weirdest years you'll ever experience in your entire life. Why? Because it's a year of many changes. But it is also one of the best years of your whole school life.

During these months of 82-83 you feel many different emotions. You feel happiness because you are finally going to be treated like an adult and finally be one. You feel sorrow because of all the great memories you've recorded in your mind, which seem like yesterday, but are really emotions frozen in your mind and heart. You also feel confusion because of all the decisions that have to be made and because of all the open doors waiting to be considered. But most of all you feel pride because you succeeded. You actually made it!

The Cost Of A Senior

The Cost of a Senior $10.50 for the S.A.T $25.00 for A.S.B. and Annual... $100.00 for Senior Pictures and Portraits! As the Senior year rolls on, so does the money, the money out of your pocket. Now that you have the privilege of being a Senior you have to buy the extras for it.

First it begins with buying your school clothes. Of course this is expensive since as a Senior you have to dress in all the latest fashions. So now you're all set in your nice looking clothes to take your Senior portraits.

As you finish paying for your Senior portraits, the S.A.T. comes along taking $10.50 out of your pockets, while the colleges take another $25.00 for your application fees. And if you think that's a lot, you have to save at least $100 to $200 for the formal and casual dances if you want to make your Senior year fun.

Just when your Senior year is coming to an end, you'd think your expenses are too! But Seniors find that even the last two months of the school year create more expenses. Those who attend grad-nite pay approximately $20 per person. Announcements come to a sum of about $30 a box, and cap and gown are about $25. Naturally, all Seniors have to buy nice clothes for their graduation ceremonies plus gifts for their closest friends.

All in all, an average Senior spends approximately $600 during the year. But what a small price to pay for a sensationaly fabulous Senior year!

REMEMBER?

Remember your first day of school at B.H.S. when you thought that the campus was so huge and you were afraid you would be late to class? Or your never ending Freshman year when you couldn't wait to stop being called a "punkie freshman?" Remember the first time you heard someone speak over the P.A. System, you wondered if they could hear you talking back? Remember how you couldn't wait to be a senior and you thought those three long years would never pass? When it finally arrived you wondered, "What now?" Now that the year has come and gone, you will never forget the special times that the Senior Class of 1983 has shared

Senior Studies?

That could wait until later. It's not due until next week anyway. Besides I've got more important things to do, such as listen to my new album, watch T.V., talk to my friend on the phone, and of course, figure out who I'm going with Saturday night. These are some of the most common statements seniors use as an excuse for not studying.

Most seniors will find that once they're behind it's hard to catch up. Good study habits are hard to obtain, especially when you don't have any to start with.

Then there are those who do have study habits, but can't seem to find their notes. Eventually their notes will turn up whether it's three weeks later, or in the pocket of their newly washed levis.

The few who have immaculate study habits are usually overly concerned about their perfect 4.0 grade point average.

To ask a senior if he has good study habits is like asking a Valley Girl to wear polyester pants. Like I'm Sure!!!!!!

“What About The Class of '83?”

“Although the four long years held many changes and pressures for the Class of '83, our class still united as one, managed to get the job done, and was the most enthusiastic, crazy, unbelievably loyal, brilliant, handsome and beautiful, talented, dedicated, hardworking supportive, irresistible, captivating class Bassett has ever seen.” This was A.S.B. President Maria Macias's remembrance of her Senior Class. When the rest of school was asked “What do you remember most about the Class of '83?” they had a vast array of responses.

“They acted so silly at the Pep Races and Assemblies that they never seemed to care what the underclassmen thought about them as long as they were having fun and showing the school spirit and pride,” commented a Freshman.

“All the fun filled activities they did as one. I'm looking forward to being a Senior and being able to do exactly what they did!” remarked a Junior.

“They were like, TOTAL-LY!” said a Senior.

“Their privileges stink, but I can't wait to get them,” a Sophomore said.

1982-83 Senior

Claudio Munoz

Claudio Munoz is one of those individuals who has that special knack of succeeding in many areas. He's not only a good student (a grade point average of 4.0) but he is also excellent in sports, so excellent that he became a top player on the 1982-83 Football team here at Bassett High School. Teachers practically rave about his drive and motivation, factors necessary to be successful in school and life. His personality and how he handles responsibilities mark him as a young adult while not losing that streak of childhood which makes him refreshingly honest and candid. His hard work obviously paid off. He was on the Principal's Honor Roll and his activities extend out to youth fellowship and Bible studies. One of the 'wards' he earned is being in the Who's Who Among American High School Students which is not surprising. The next step for this promising young man is to attend college. For the present, he is showered with praise and admiration for his deeds, and he is truly, on the way up.

Stephanie Martinez

Stephanie Martinez is certainly one of Bassett's most talented students. During her high school years, her main interest was in Drama where she was a two year member. In her Junior year, she participated in the "Childrens Theatre" and in her Senior year, she played the part of Frau Lumpenason in the "Viennese Music Box." Her magnificent portrayal of this German lady captured the hearts of all. Stephanie's future plans are to attend Pepperdine University and study to become an actress/singer.

Hall of Fame

Cecilia Lazaro

Cecilia Lazaro is one of the giants among giants. Like her fellow recipients of the Hall of Fame Honor, she has attained the zenith at Bassett High. To some, this is merely an insubstantial dream, unattainable by any means. Cecilia's fine work in Honor Society contributed to the success of the club through the years. And ~~the~~ about awards galore! She's featured in the Who's Who Among High School Students, an impressive accomplishment by any standard. She is one of the top students in this school to have both a successful academic and sports career. Cecilia is interested in tennis and badminton and she is proficient in both. Cecilia was MVP in tennis during the 1980-81 season and she had the privilege to compete in C.I.F. with other top tennis players in the San Gabriel Valley. She is often times active in school functions that make Bassett High School more enjoyable. Her unique personality and her bright intellect truly separate her from the others.

Rosemary Balog

Through life, it's very rare to have the privilege of meeting a person of the caliber of Rosemary Balog. And it's really not surprising that she has garnered another award to put on her already impressive mantle. Not only is she a great Tennis player, but she is also the President of one of the prestigious clubs in school called the National Honor Society. Her unselfish attitude in giving both her time and talent served as a good example to those who know her, but there is one thing that makes her stand out from the rest. And that is her ability to touch lives. She has this inexhaustible charm that makes her association with others run smoothly. Her wit is sharp, but she uses it with no malice. But most of all, Rose shows an understanding of human nature. She shows this in every facet of her high school career, whether it's in her creative writing, or evident throughout her anecdotes. She shows a tranquil spirit and, at the same time, strength of character in all that she undertakes. We have just caught a glimpse of what she can do, the very tip of a large iceberg. Congratulations, Rosemary! This is only the beginning.

This One's For You

WE ARE THE MIGHTY JUNIORS!

Yes, we are the Mighty Juniors!

We have shared wonderful times and laughter with great friends and teachers to make the year enjoyable.

We are very proud of being Juniors because we have accomplished so much in so little time, under tremendous amounts of pressure. Nevertheless, we made our year a most enjoyable one, one which we will forever remember.

We're anticipating being Seniors next year. Our plans will insure that next year's excitement will exceed, by far, that which we have felt this year. For example, we're hoping our efforts will win us the Homecoming prize for best float. An even greater year awaits us, but for now, "We Are The Mighty Juniors ... And We're Proud Of It!"

JOLLY JUNIORS AT LUNCH BREAK

Rrr-ing ... it's lunchtime! Watch out, here come the juniors ready to invade the cafeteria!

What do the juniors do during lunch break? Well, look around and you'll see most juniors standing in the line for 10 minutes buying something to munch on.

You'll find other juniors wanderin' around the campus with their friends, better known as 'body guards', chatting with their friends and asking one another, "How's your day so far? Boring, right?" When the juniors meet their fellow juniors during lunch break, they go crazy! It's like they haven't seen each other for a million years! That's because they have something to prove to everyone ... "We are the JOLLY JUNIORS."

A TOUCH OF MAGIC

The class of '84 has always had a touch of magic. We are known to have a unique talent in everything we do, and we are proud of it.

We know that the education we struggled for was worth the struggle. It has helped us to grow in self-awareness and in the ability to visualize the possibilities that the future holds for us.

We are working to do what's needed to build a great future for ourselves.

We would like never to shirk our responsibilities to ourselves or to others. We wish to grow and mature to benefit both others as well as ourselves. We're sure our touch of magic will lead us to the paths Destiny has laid for us.

SPRIT OF '84

Boy, last year was great for the class of '84 Can you imagine it? We won the 1982 Homecoming Float competition! Wow! Wasn't that a great feeling! We're sure it was because of the hard work, tribulations, patience and it sure was worth it! We can still remember that gut feeling we felt during the judging. Hearts beat faster and throats dried up as the float rolled along past the stand, scrutinized by discriminating judges Heart beats seemed suspended in time when the judges finally looked at our entry. In a split second all the work and love that was poured into the float made it glow majestically with beauty And, in a few minutes we were proclaimed to be THE BEST, the best of Bassett High School And to prove it wasn't a fluke, we will do it again next year. Be there next year for the Spirit Of '84

THE CLASS WITH PRIDE

The juniors of 1982-83 will leave a mark on this school because of the tremendous amount of pride we have. And why not?! We not only do well academically, but are also deeply involved in our extracurricular activities. That's why we are always considered to be the best. Consequently, we have great pride in our class. We are making the Junior class better known everyday. We guess you can say — "We are non-stop!" After all, we ARE the Class Of 1984!"

A YEAR TO REMEMBER

Jr. year . . . a year to remember all the wonderful times we had which we will always cherish. We'll remember all the hard work we did to make our lives better and especially the teachers and friends whom we will always miss

We are coming to our final year. Some of us will go to college. Some of us will go out on our own and fulfill the dream we have

Whatever road we choose will surely not be all grassy-soft. Hopefully, our resolve will be strengthened by any difficulties which may lie along the pathway of life

Though our dream may change along the way, by keeping it clearly in mind we can hopefully attain it

Whatever your choice Bassett High School wishes you the best. Good Luck, Class of 1984

WE'RE ON OUR WAY

The end of our Junior Year has finally come. All the work we thought would never get done is done. But, it also means, it's time for us to leave behind the happiness and sadness we shared with our friends and teachers this year at Bassett High. We're sure going to miss the year's happenings, yes, but it sure is something to treasure and remember as we move along. We now look forward to next year as seniors. Can you believe it? We have spent years of hard work and finally our labors have begun to bear fruit! And we even thought we'd never get through. But one thing's for sure . . . We're on our way to the top!!!!

Officers of '85

This year the Class of '85 had an outstanding group of representatives. The class officers were President John Cortinas, Vice-President Raquel Rara, Secretary Marissa Barraza, and Treasurer Martha Ortiz. This year the class officers did a very good job of keeping the class of '85 on top. They also kept the class financially stable by having many fund raisers. Some of the many fund raisers that the class of '85 sponsored were jewelry and key chain sales, and selling carnations for Christmas.

The class had many goals that they tried to achieve during the 1982-83 school year.

This year the class officers did remarkably well in everything they set their minds on achieving. In the upcoming years it is hoped that these class officers will be reelected to help prepare the class of '85 for the outside world.

Sandwich Sophomores

Being a Sophomore isn't so easy as everyone figures it to be. In high school, you're either a baby freshman or a hip junior or senior. And anybody in between is kind of floating somewhere in oblivion.

When you think about it, it's kind of mind boggling, because you know you're not a baby. You don't do anything like play chase at lunch time anymore, and you're not yet a senior driving off at lunchtime to McDonald's in your lowered bug!

So you're kind of somewhere in the middle, not chasing anyone around, but not exactly cruising around either.

Seniors and Juniors at B.H.S. have gone through the same weird feeling of floating. And the class of '85 won't be the last to experience these mixed emotions of sophomores.

Cruisin' for an "A"

Sophomores studied long, tiresome hours for tests in one specific, important class, Driver's Education.

Sophomores could be spotted miles away looking like chickens with their heads cut off just because they missed one critical assignment.

Most Sophomores will remember that awfully long day when they rushed to class to find out if they passed the final test and were going to be finally, legally behind the driver's wheel, or if they failed and were going to be in the passenger's seat again this year.

Despite all the odds stacked against passing the class, such as their busy schedule that included watching T.V., eating dinner, talking on the phone, and feeding their dog Bowzer, they made it! It was a lot of hard work, but in the long run it was worth it.

Hard Times

Academically, being a Sophomore falls into the category of, rough, hard, and bad on the eyes.

Why? Because your Sophomore year is the hardest, and, seemingly, the longest year you'll ever experience.

When you're a Sophomore, you get stuck with 4 writing classes. These are English, math, science, and some sort of history class. Compared to Senior, Junior and Freshman classes, it means a lot more reading, writing and researching that you'll have to do.

Although there are many good times you'll encounter while being a Sophomore, you'll find that keeping good marks in all your writing classes, physical education and your one elective can be ALMOST impossible. Ask anybody and I'm sure they'll confirm that being a Sophomore is Hard Times!

You'll remember that first day of school when you were a freshman with the feeling of not belonging.

And then the following year you were a Sophomore and coming back to see an old friend.

And we'll be back next year, and we'll have even more fun renewing our friendship with this old friend called Bassett High School!

After saying "good-bye" as Juniors we'll return again more mature and more willing to make our last year with our old friend one to remember for the rest of our lives.

It seems, right now, as if our last year with our old friend will never come, but before we know it our time will come to say good-bye for good, because we're movin' up!

Peanut Butter and Jelly

The Class of '85 really sticks together. Although we all have our own different cliques, '85, more or less, can always be found hanging around together.

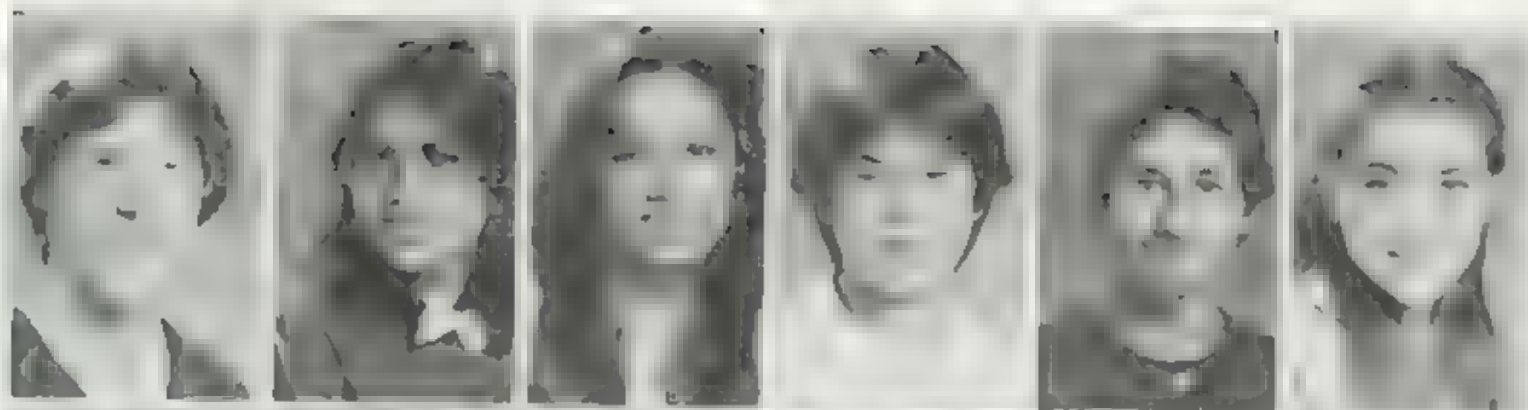

Maybe that's one of the reasons why '85 almost always wins the spirit contests. Another reason why '85 is considered one of the best classes to pass through B.H.S. is because we really care about each other.

One example of the class

'85's sticking together was during the night before Homecoming when the Sophomore float was bombed with eggs by unknown hit men! Even though Sophomores only had one more day to go, they never lost faith. Sophomores really worked hard to get the float back in shape. They stuck together and accomplished the near impossible. Like peanut butter and jelly, the Class of '85 really sticks together.

"85," The Class with Spirit

When it comes to spirit, the class of '85 doesn't take a backseat to anybody. They are a gung-ho group of spirit-charged Sophomores that can do more than justice to the word dynamic. Whether it's in Pep Rallies, class competition, or merely doing anything at all, they do the very best they can do. Their dynamic flair, their spirit, their spunk and all their other good characteristics make them shine as brilliantly as the rest of the upperclassmen. Can anyone else lay claim to winning most of the competitions? Even the Seniors, worthy opponents that they are, cannot. Their energy is harnessed to such an extent that the "Sophomore Competitor" is actually buoyed up by the output of spirit and support that emanates from the class of '85. Their mere presence is unmistakable and so unignorable that they are truly unique. They are a collection of individuals which makes up and supports the dynamic Class of 1985.

Class Officers

They work as hard as anybody in A.S.B. Although some of the Freshman Class Officers are rookies, they supplement their inexperience with spunk and determination to successfully complete their appointed tasks despite the pressures placed upon them by their position.

Arranging the Freshman activities isn't a piece of cake. Complicated matters such as fund raisers are handled in stride with the flair of a veteran staff. Most importantly, they work as a team. The President, Vice-President, Treasurer and Secretary complement each other's work so well that even in difficult times they work out problems quickly and efficiently.

Hats off to these remarkable people who deserve all the credit they receive!

▲ This Right Were Our Freshmen

Typical Freshmen

Every year, our beloved institution of learning receives new batches of peach fuzz called freshmen boys. We see these peculiar beings roaming our campus. It must be pretty hard to be freshmen and be bewildered to see sights unseen before. These freshmen boys feel apprehensive when an upperclasswoman approaches them. They are still a little insecure about themselves. But, as time goes by, they adjust their former demeanor — they change from loudmouthed kids to composed gentlemen. Past insecurities are forgotten and new competencies surface. Voice will change, beard will grow and, in time, these freshmen will take their rightful place in the ranks of the upperclassmen.

What it means to be a Freshman

A friend of mine mused, "To me, being a freshman means starting a brand new experience. I thought about this and found out that he captured the essence of what it means to be a Freshman. As you enter your first year in B H S, you are experiencing something that will stay with you for the rest of your life, and I think you should savor every minute of it. Sure, there are hassles and obstacles to overcome, but that's part of what our memories are made of. To some, those absurd happenings make a Freshman year especially memorable. To others, it might mean a time of being awkward. But we all have such times and it's nothing to be ashamed of. The word Freshman has some connotations that are not exactly flattering. Let's not forget, we all have been Freshmen. Since we all have different interpretations of what being a Freshman means, it's best to use your own

Learning As We Go

As we went along through our first year of high school, we learned a lot more than our three R's. First off, we learned to respect school property and the school itself. Further, we ourselves matured and began to grow up from the shy little kids that we were to the adults of tomorrow.

In the years to come we will advance ourselves in maturity, and increase our respect for the environment in which we live and grow. We will continue to grow in respect for the laws which guide our lives and train our habits. Learning as we go will not only teach us to be better students but better citizens of our community.

Entering a New Threshold

You are now out of junior high and on the campus of a real high school. Imagine that! After some odd years of junior high school, it finally paid off. Yes, it is a peculiar feeling. Having a bigger classroom and more people is like trying out sea legs, unsteady at first. (But in time they'll learn how to manage.) It also means cutting old ties and making new. There will be new responsibilities added to the old. Old beliefs will serve as a foundation for new ones, garnered from newfound experiences. You are steering in fresh water that will contain both good times and bad. But as you go farther in, weathered by trials and tribulations, these unfamiliar matters will be familiar and, finally, if you try, you can be successful in blending into the flow of high school and ultimately of life.

Adjusting to a New Environment

It's hard settling down in a new neighborhood. You have to get used to a new house, memorize a new telephone number, and myriad other things that would take more space than available. It's the same at school. As a freshman new things have been introduced to you: New schedule of classes, new teachers with personalities you must get used to.

Where does it all end?! I don't have the answer. What works for others may not work for you. But let me tell you that once you get into the groove of things it's smooth sailing all the way. Well, there will be some bumps but it'll make your stay at BHS great. There is no easy way to adjust to a new environment but, take heart, all is not lost. You are not alone. There are people who feel for you because they were in the same boat a couple of years ago. So, grit those teeth and endure, for it would be a shame to miss out on anything this great school offers.

Symptom "Freshmen Blues"

It hits hundreds of people every year. It is no discriminator of gender. It hits boy and girl whether tall, short, clean, dirty, white, black or green. Even the surgeon general doesn't know that it exists, let alone have an antidote for it. What is it? The scientific name for it is The Freshman Blues. It is a peculiar "bug" that becomes active in the first two weeks of high school. Symptoms are sweaty hands when approaching algebra, drooping eyelids and yawning when a teacher is lecturing and a headache or a stomach ache upon awakening to the realization that it's time to go to school. Other symptoms will surface, depending upon the person's imagination. Causes for this mysterious ailment can range from breaking out in pimples to a "surprise" quiz in algebra Suggestions to cure this malady are: get your mind in a proper state, think positive (yes, she'll still talk to you even though you have a pimple on your nose and no you won't flunk algebra when you flunk the quiz.) Just get it over with and you'll find out that being a Freshman isn't that painful and when you can accept that idea, guess what? You're cured!"

Board of Education

Curriculum A Priority

The Board of Education of Bassett Unified School District consists of five members, elected by the community to determine policies and guidelines for the school district.

During the past year the Board of Education has given high priority to curriculum, emphasizing the areas of Language Arts and Math. It is their desire to improve and upgrade the instructional program throughout the school district and give Bassett students the best possible education.

To this they are committed.

Knowledge: The Basis for Success

As you reach the end of another year it may be difficult for you to recall what has been learned. It is difficult for one to answer the question, "What did you learn today?" Rest assured that if you attended school, and made an earnest effort to understand the content presented, that you did learn and you did grow. Knowledge will result through a process of accumulation. However, that is not enough! Knowledge will provide growth of insight and it is through insight that one learns to use the knowledge he or she has attained.

Assistant Principals

How Would We Manage Without Them?

Three Assistant Principals contribute much to keeping Bassett High School functioning effectively. Each one has specific duties.

Starting alphabetically we have Beverly Amor for Curriculum and Instruction. She supervises such things as school-wide testing, Back-to-School Night, the school budget (a job in itself), the program of studies and course offerings, and teacher in-service.

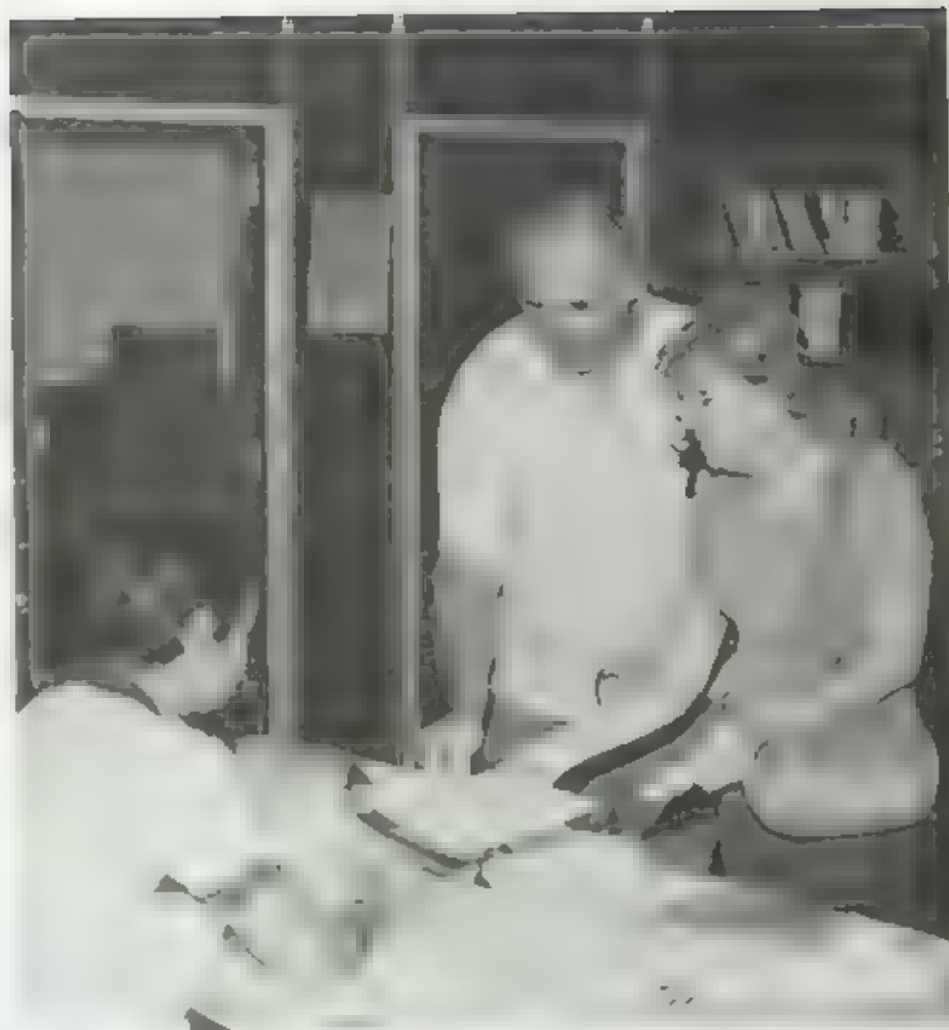

Assistant Principal Don Ramig is in charge of registration procedures, student programming, mid-term graduation and work experience. Ramig also handles all pupil personnel services at the high school and coordinates R.O.P. services.

Carolyn Watt is Assistant Principal in charge of Attendance and Discipline.

She supervises the issuing of lunch and early dismissal passes. Her areas of responsibility include student attendance, disciplinary procedures, campus security and supervision for activities. Her presence on campus is a reminder that school is serious business.

These three Assistant Principals keep the wheels of Bassett High School oiled and running smoothly, to help make it a good school.

Counselors & Directors

Do You Need Advice?

Counselors in Bassett High School have many functions that make student life much easier. During registration these remarkable persons help students select the classes in the beginning of the semester. If program changes are needed, the counselors are there to help out. Their function is not limited to helping students change programs but they are also willing to listen and give out advice to persons needing it. We would like to give credit to Mr. Castuera, Mr. Waight, Mr. Castro, and Miss Wells, who handle the students' programs and other duties, and also to Mr. Harrison, the Director of Activities, Mr. Puglies and Ms. Ochi the directors of Physical Education and last but certainly not the least, Mr. Day, the coordinator of the Site Improvement Program. They give so much of their time and energy to help the students of B.H.S. to be as successful as they can be

"Opportunity LANE"

Many students at Bassett High know we have a Career Center, but very few know what it has to offer.

To begin with, the Career Center has a lot to offer and also contributes a great deal towards helping students prepare for the outside world.

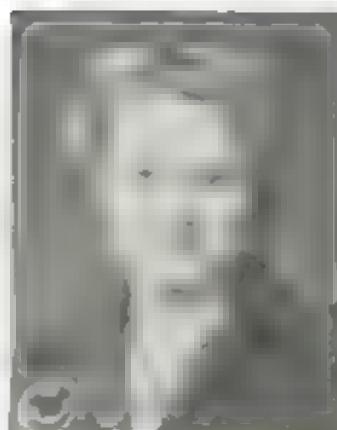

The Career Center is one of the most important areas in the entire school. Staff members in the Career Center can help students figure out just what it is they want to do or be in "life after high school."

The Career Center has many brochures and much information on colleges, the Armed Forces, work experience programs and ROP training for different trades. The Career Center is also the location of the office for the Vocational Education Program.

Every student at Bassett High should find time to visit the Career Center and take advantage of all its services.

"What would we do"

What would you do if you came to school Monday morning and found out that all the secretaries and clerks were on strike?

When you think about it, without all of our secretaries and clerks the school would be in a complete uproar. Just stop and think. There would not be anyone to type up bulletins, answer phones, give out re-ads and make appointments for you to see your counselor. The list goes on and on. All those chores that just have to be done amount to a big heap of time-consuming responsibilities which keep the school functioning

Sometimes people may take advantage of our secretaries and clerks. People may not stop to think of all the hard work and time they contribute to the school. Face it, without our secretaries and clerks B.H.S. would be in a complete mess!

Everyone should take time to express appreciation to our secretaries and clerks for everything they do for the student body and school. Next time you see one of them, say a "Thank you" for making Bassett High a good place to be.

Instructional Aides

Thank Goodness for Aides

Teachers, capable as they are, sometimes have trouble arranging materials because of the work load they have. Thank goodness then for the Aides at Bassett High School. Their invaluable help makes it easier for the teachers to concentrate more on their main objective: to help students achieve the high standards that they have set for themselves. A person must be well trained to do the work that is required. It's more than just xeroxing papers. The Aides in B H S. have a great number of responsibilities that they meet day by day with uncompromising efficiency. Therefore, it is time to give them credit for a job well done.

Noon Aide and Security

The Security Officer's Job

The security program at Bassett High is primarily designed to assist the faculty in dealing with truancy. The High School follows a "closed campus" policy to restrain students from leaving without permission and to keep outsiders from entering the campus without proper passes. The Security Officers encourage students to attend class and insure that no students remain in the halls or quad areas during class hours.

Foreign Language

"Comprende usted español?"

Our Foreign Language Department concentrates on Spanish. Seventy-eight per cent of our student population stems from people who spoke Spanish in the not-too-distant past. Many of these students have had some familiarity with the Spanish language before coming to Bassett High School.

By expanding their famil-ilarity into good language usage and by developing the ability to read and write in Spanish, students attain a good grasp of the language.

English-Spanish bilinguals are much in demand in the working world of the Southwest and Bassett tries to develop true bilingual ability among its students.

“Let’s Communicate!”

In addition to courses in English as a Second Language (ESL) offered in the Bilingual Department, Bassett High School offers many types of classes in the English/Reading Department.

One of these is a class in reading for students who have not passed the District reading proficiency exam. This class is designed to help students to read and understand meanings in written language.

Another class is the writing laboratory, provided to help students learn to write sentences and paragraphs correctly.

Those people who are proficient in reading and writing take General English, comprehensive but not complicated.

The most advanced English classes are college preparatory classes designed to give a good foundation in reading and writing to students planning to enter colleges and universities.

Bassett's goal is to enable students to communicate adequately in today's complex world.

Math

"The Wonderful World of Mathematics"

All of our lives we face numbers, starting with counting "How many?" before we even knew what numbers looked like.

In our earliest grade school, we learned how to read, count, and recognize numbers. We also learned how to add, subtract, divide and multiply. Then came our Junior High Years, when we learned basic math such as exponents, and a little bit of algebra.

Finally, we get to high school, where we find a variety of mathematics courses from which to choose. If we want fairly easy math, Refresher Math is available. This is a review of all math covered so far. Regular High School Math is mostly concerned with consumer and logical thinking. However, if we happen to be college bound students, we need to take Algebra I and II, Geometry, and Trigonometry.

These branches take us into Advanced Mathematics, which, although complicated, can be fascinating, while drawing us into "The Wonderful World of Mathematics."

Social Studies

"The Surroundings"

We travel from Anthropology to Psychology, Ancient to Modern History, and World Affairs to Geography. These are some of the basic things we learned in Social Studies

We might define Social Studies as composed of different study fields about: the world, cultural backgrounds, people, languages, religions, laws, history of the United States from the colonial period to modern history, Revolutionary War to the Water-gate Scandal, and World War I and II to the Vietnam War; and last but not least, man's behavioral patterns. We covered these fields of Social Studies to gain understanding of many things

We want to understand our environment, know how useful inventions were created, how our world was built up, how people behave, and how they are affected by their environment

The Social Studies enable us to gain an increasingly better understanding of ourselves and our surroundings

It's difficult for people who don't have English in their language background to live in a society which depends so much on communication in English. It's gratifying to know, however, that there are people who care enough to help, who understand and who have rapport with those individuals who experience language problems.

Teachers like Karen Buhower and Ofelia Gurrola have a great desire to see the E.S.L. students succeed in entering into the mainstream of school life, and they devote much of their time and energy to these classes.

Direction in the E.S.L. program is provided by Alice Diaz who is the dedicated lady coordinating the whole bilingual E.S.L. program.

Business

A Starting Point

Bassett High School has made a great contribution to the business world. This fine department, composed of an excellent staff, has given quality training to many Bassett students, who are now holding positions of skill and responsibility both in and outside of our community.

They are continually encouraging multiple skills among Bassett students, readying many more to take responsible positions in the business community.

Our Business Department is truly a credit to our school.

HAT'S OFF

The Fine Arts Department of Bassett High School offers its students a wide variety of Art courses. These courses offer the students the opportunity to acquire artistic skills that can be beneficial to a person's chosen field of study, then perhaps in their future career. Many facets of Art are featured in B H S. curriculum. Courses in painting and drawing are available. Sculpting and pottery are offered in the Ceramics Dept. to those who like working with the clay medium. The teachers of the department, Mrs. Hammer, Mrs. Manson, and Mrs. Weber deserve every praise and honor they have garnered through the years. Hats off to you ladies, the Art teachers of B H S!

Where skills are honed for future careers

Bassett High School's Industrial Arts Department is one of the most interesting departments in this school. It consists of four types of classes: mechanics and auto repair, printing, woodshop and electronics.

In these classes students learn such skills as how to build cabinets, how to fix cars, publish newspapers, repair television sets and work with certain types of computers. Students seem to enjoy these classes very much because they like using their hands to create and fix things.

In all of these classes there are students who want to take their skills into a vocational occupation, and these teachers are able to provide information on technical schools that offer further advanced training and help students get jobs in their chosen fields.

Schools' Quick Relief For The Doldrums

The Physical Education Department is one of the more enjoyable parts of school. The instructors stress athletic participation and simply going out to have some fun.

Boys' P.E. consists of sports like basketball, softball, weight lifting and handball.

Girls' classes play other sports such as tennis, archery and badminton.

There are also co-ed classes where girls and boys play together at sports like volleyball and softball.

All these P.E. classes help students get a break from the routine of regular class work. They also help build physical fitness. Physical Education is both fun and helpful so students should participate and enjoy these classes every day.

Creative Arts

"Drama, Dance and Band!"

Let's look at drama this year through the eyes of Karen Bolhower. "It's a world of computers, machines, social security numbers, and in essence, mass technology. It is my intention, through drama, to do everything possible to re-establish human spirit among and within any students willing to find that spirit within themselves. This step can occur at any point in a person's lifetime. But, it is my sincere hope that the first step will be taken here at Bassett High," Ms. Bolhower expressed openly.

This was a new beginning at Bassett High for Ms. Bolhower. It wasn't easy to just come in and take over after Mrs. Krantz. Everyone was expecting a lot out of her and it wasn't easy to meet their expectations. But once the students got to know her, they really appreciated her for the good teacher she is.

Another creative art offered here at Bassett is Dance. Jazz classes are very popular and are taught in the beautifully mirrored studio. Current pop music is used and students have the opportunity to create their own routines and perform them for an audience. This gives students a chance to express feelings through body language. There are many good dancers at Bassett High and they all contribute to the class with their different ideas. Mrs. Montesanti conducts the type of class where there is no one, solo leader who makes up all the dances. The whole class makes up the routines together as they go along and all the routines turn out to be class projects.

▲ Carolyn Montesanti shows her students how it is done

The Bassett High School Band department is the last of the three arts to be mentioned. Conducted by John Roberts, the band has succeeded in getting students into the rhythm at pep rallies. The band has done a terrific job of raising spirit at Bassett sky high. Although they are a small band, they play just as well as USC's Marching Band, and maybe even better.

Special Education

"An Important Part"

Special Education plays an important part here at Bassett High School. It enables teachers to teach in an individual and very attentive atmosphere. It also gives students a chance to have a one-to-one relationship with their teacher. They have a better opportunity to learn at their own pace.

Hard Times

You know it must be a student from Annual Staff when you hear, "How many picas down?," "When's the final draft due?," and "Make sure you write the copy and crop the pictures!"

Two co-editors and an almost completely inexperienced group of students formed the 1982-83 Annual Staff. Things were rough in the beginning but got easier as the staff learned the vocabulary and techniques

We faced disaster in the form of an early rainy season before the school roof was repaired. We found soggy layouts, ruined pictures and materials. Room 510 was made available to us for period 5 only. With our materials in a shopping cart we wandered about looking for a more suitable place to work, and were fortunate to get the use of the library and then the principal's conference room

In this sometimes calm but mostly crazy atmosphere deadlines still had to be met. In January we went back to our home base, room 207

All in all, things worked out tremendously well. Free-flowing creative ideas worked their way into the 1982-83 Annual. The staff worked hard to make this the most 'creative' annual in Bassett history

Associated Student Body

"In Action"

The Associated Student Body Council has to be one of the busiest organizations on campus. Its leaders have a lot on their hands.

One activity in which they were involved this year was the Christmas Ball, which was a smashing success. Their feelings of elation were shared with the Honor Society, who co-sponsored the Christmas Ball.

A.S.B. Council activities and responsibilities included organizing pep rallies, handling Dance Court elections, coordinating Monthly Word-of-the-Day Tests school-wide, sponsoring other dances such as the Back-to-School and Homecoming Dances, and approving all club and class activities and fund raisers. On Dec. 16 A.S.B. participated in the District-Sponsored Headstart Christmas Program in elementary schools.

Their ideas and their energy go far to add zest to the life at Bassett High.

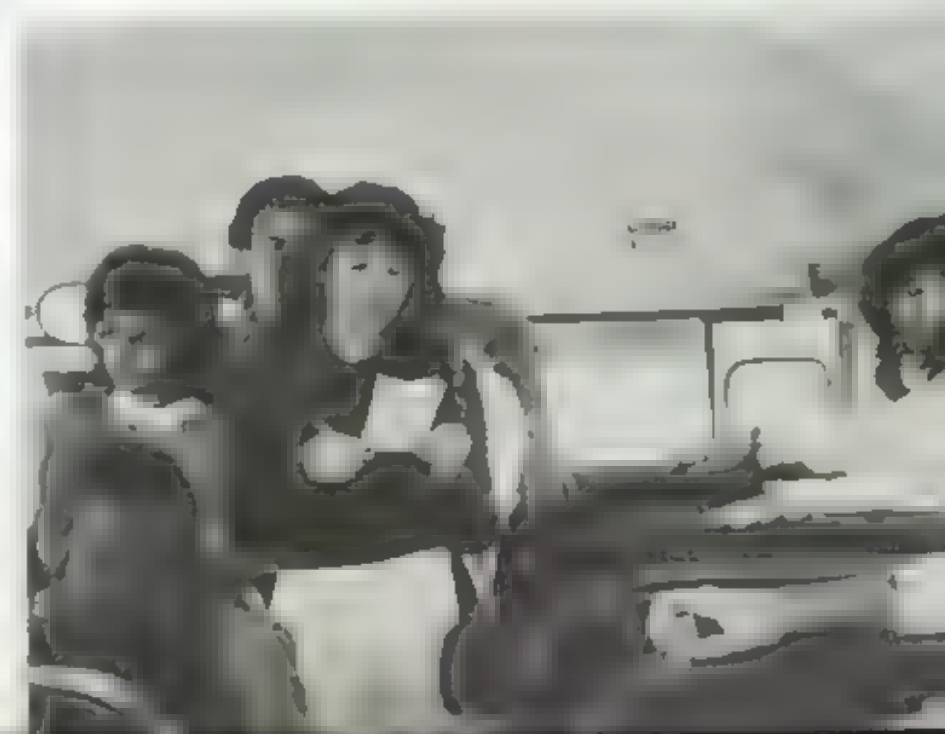

▼ Did you ever wonder where that voice came from each day over the P.A. system? To satisfy your curiosity, we took a sneak peek of Maria Macias doing her daily routine announcing the daily bulletin.

► Taking a long break from A.S.B. duties, the group of 10 students is not at all that serious. They are just having a little fun. The group seems to be able to relax and have a good time.

► On Dec. 16, the A.S.B. participated in the District-Sponsored Headstart program at the elementary schools. The A.S.B. members Maria Macias assigned to the program were Julie Contreras, Norma Rivas, Carlos Velez, Luis Pinedo, Mike Gambier, and Cesar Acosta. They were all very helpful and did a great job.

A.S.B. Council

The Associated Student Body Council is composed of three branches: Executive, Legislative, and Judicial. Each group has its own job. The Executive Branch guides the Legislative and Judicial Branches in what to do during the year. The Legislative Branch rules on issues and organizes activities. The Judicial Branch decides what jobs all the clubs of Bassett can do.

The Activities Director, Mr. Harrison, serves as advisor to the A.S.B. Council.

"Cream Of The Crop"

Honor Society is one of those elite organizations that does justice to its name. This prestigious club is very selective in the choice of its members. At least a 3.0 G P A is required to join it's ranks. Once a member you are among people who are very friendly and have varied interests and personalities. The officers of Honor Society are Rose Balog (Pres.), Cecilia Lozano (V. Pres.), Julie Contreras (Secretary), Charlene Anderson (Treasurer) and Racquel Rara (Scribe). They do a wonderful job of handling the club's business.

The hard work of the officers and the cooperation of the members paid off in the success of the dances that they sponsored, for example. The Sadie Hawkins Dance and the Christmas Ball were both very successful in terms of enjoyment and finance. If you get the impression that this club just works without playing, perish the thought! After the hard work comes the parties that signify the satisfaction of a job well done.

A New Development

The Latin American Student Organization (L.A.S.O.), was formed by a group of Bassett High students in 1982.

Its main purpose is to provide social, cultural, and educational activities for Hispanic and Non-Hispanic students so that they may be able to expand and share their knowledge of the realities of Hispanic life and culture.

L.A.S.O. also functions as a support group to provide its members with information dealing with college opportunities, immigration, school/community issues, and local government.

Members have the opportunity to develop artistic expression by participating in music, art, theater, and dance.

Although L.A.S.O. was formed in 1982, it has had a tremendous impact at Bassett in this short time. It is clear that it will be in the forefront of all future Bassett High School activities.

We Are Proud

Have you ever seen the wheelchair symbol? That means the Loud and Proud Club. We have T-Shirts with the wheelchair symbol right on them. Even though you're not in a wheelchair or disabled you may want to join this club because we do a lot of exciting things and the people are super.

As you probably know, in November, we have our annual wheel-a-thon. For those of you who don't know what that is: each member of the club gets many pledges for a certain amount of money for each lap around the track this really adds up if you do fourteen or fifteen laps. You are allowed to have partners but you can push yourself too! We also go on field trips such as Disneyland and to the Puente Hills Mall. We raise money for those trips by selling candy and having the wheel-a-thon. We also have three dances a year, and if you've ever been to one of our parties you know they are the best

If you remember a small silver dog, that's Tiny. She's our mascot. Tiny came to school every day for seven years but she is now in semi-retirement.

Even though we do many fun things throughout the year we must not forget the purpose of our club: To help the disabled and the non-disabled to get to know each other, to be independent, to be visible — in other words, to be Loud and Proud!

A Successful Organization

The Bassett Athletes-In-Action Organization is not well known but it has a worthwhile purpose. B.A.I.A. runs one gigantic fund raiser over a two-week period by selling M and M candies. The proceeds go to purchase necessities for sports, trophies, and honor awards for outstanding Bassett athletes.

Young Teams

The Aquatics Club is composed of members from both the Water Polo and Swim Teams. This year they both consist mainly of underclassmen. These teams are very competitive and usually finish high in their division. The young teams don't have the experience of other schools in our league, but they never give up and that is what keeps Bassett strong in water sports. The next few years should be very productive for these Aquatic Teams because of the experience gained this year by younger athletes

Our Stars of Tomorrow

Happiness, sadness, and all the emotions in between are part of being an actor or actress. The people in the Thespian Club work to develop their acting ability to it's utmost. They achieve this goal by working hard during class periods and extra time after class. Endless hours are spent preparing for various plays done throughout the school year.

The first play the Thespian Club did this year was the Viennese Music Box. This play brought the magic and happiness of Christmas to Bassett. The Viennese Music Box was an original, written and directed by the new drama teacher, Ms. Karen Bolhower. It featured two newcomers, Tammy Sims and Steve Gandara, who played as the dancing glass ballerina and the tin soldier

Spirit Through Music

Music and excitement were brought to Bassett through this year's varsity songleaders. Alligator Woman, The Jackson Melody, and the all-popular fight song were just a few of the various routines that the songleaders performed during this school year. Spirit was expressed through fun-filled routines to energetic music that really got the crowd going at football games, basketball games, and pep-rallies.

The Songleaders did an outstanding job at the U.S.A. Spirit Camp this summer. They received a superior trophy, along with many blue ribbons, and a 2nd. place plaque for their competition routine in which they competed against 15 other schools. The songleaders did such an outstanding job at camp that they were asked by the U.S.A. staff to perform with them at a Dodger pre-game show. They did musical and cheer routines along with 30 other schools.

Three Cheers For Spirit

Varsity cheer proved to be very strong no matter what the circumstances were. Even though the squad got down to 3 girls, they had the spirit and enthusiasm of 10 times as many. Endless hours were spent after school screaming and yelling their voices out, practicing cheers for football games, basketball games, and pep-rallies.

The cheerleaders returned from the U.S.A. Spirit Camp with good results. They learned new cheers and received excellent and superior ribbons. They also performed with the U.S.A. Spirit Staff at a Dodger pre-game show with 30 other schools.

"Being a cheerleader taught me a lot about school spirit. I'm glad I had the chance to receive such a fun-filled and exciting experience," said Cynthia Velasquez. Jenni Tatton described her year on the spirit squad as very enjoyable and a lot of fun. Debbie Kelly said, "Being the captain of the spirit squad made my year awesome!"

This year the J.V. Cheerleaders attended camp from July 22 through July 25. There they received "Superior" and "Excellent" ribbons. They have participated in many pep rallies doing various routines during the year. The J.V. Cheerleaders were asked to perform with the United Spirit Association, for a pre-game show at Dodger Stadium on September 29th. The J.V. Cheerleaders have promoted spirit at the football and basketball games in the seasons of the 82-83 school year. We look forward to seeing these girls on our Varsity pep squad next year.

"Togetherness"

Surprise and elation were two of the strongest emotions the 1982-83 spirit squad felt when they had made the team. Even though the squad is made up of 3 different units, they are as one when united together. The girls worked hard after school everyday perfecting new cheers and routines, and painting posters to show their school spirit. Yelling cheers until they got sore throats, and jumping after a good play at a basketball or football game were all part of the fun and good times the spirit squad shared throughout the year

The Bassett High School Marching Band is part of our spirit here at B.H.S. They bring us spirit during football games with their spirit songs and half-time shows. They also spread our school spirit at parades. Paul Ramirez, B.H.S. Marching Band's drum major received Third Place in the Military Drum Major Division at Lester Oaks Band Review. They also give us spirit during Basketball season, and performances held at Dodger Stadium. The Band also performs a Spring Concert and ends the year with a performance at Graduation. Our B.H.S. Varsity Volleyball

A Good Season with a Sad Ending

This year, the girls Varsity Volleyball team did very well considering their lack of experience. The team was coached very well by coaches Ochi and Sandy Serrano. The team only had three returning players which included seniors Sandra Delgado and Maryann Trujillo, and junior Laura Rojo. The rest of the team consisted of previous junior varsity players who did exceptionally well in contributing to the team. Captain Maryann Trujillo and setter Laura Rojo were chosen most valuable players of the team.

The last game was a sad game for the senior players. They admitted that they were going to miss volleyball at Bassett very much, and were hoping that the season wouldn't have finished so quickly. The season ended with a 7-7 record. Miss Ochi also commented that in the years to come with the addition of this year's players the future Varsity team will be very strong.

Explosive Talent!

The Junior Varsity volleyball team did very well this year. All their hard work and determination paid off at the end of the season with a 10-4 record, which enabled them to rank 2nd place in the Montview League.

Although the team itself was inexperienced, they did very well with the help of their coach, Mrs. Benes. Without the dynamite training and experience that Mrs. Benes contributed to the team, the team surely wouldn't have gotten as far as they did.

This season was altogether loads of fun for the J.V. players. They all look forward to returning next year on the Varsity team, and settling for nothing less than being number "1".

Next year's Varsity team promises to be explosive with the addition of this year's promoted Junior Varsity players.

The team and Mrs. Benes worked very hard at doing their best. They really worked together as a family, one for all and all for one. That's why they were spectacular throughout the season. We can all look forward to going and supporting a number 1 Varsity Volleyball team next year.

Freshly Picked

This year the J.V. Tennis team did very well considering that not even half of the team had any experience in the rough field of Tennis competition. Throughout the year the team practiced long, hard hours, and put all they had into the game. They learned through their mistakes, and improved as the year went on. The three returning players were: Sandra Lambrecht, Dawn Mathers, and Maria Esqueda. The veterans really contributed a great amount to the team. They sort of led the way for the freshly picked players. This year the team really made great progress

Cross Country At Its Best

Congratulations to the Boys' and Girls' Cross Country Teams for defeating their opponents in 11 games and losing only 5 games this season.

The teams' hard work and determination paid off as they eliminated their worthy opponents with style and grace. However, their triumphs are not as important as the team cooperation and unity gained from the events that they overcame as one.

The Bassett Cross Country Teams handled their impressive record with justifiable pride and spirit.

The success of a program can be determined in many ways. The 1982-1983 Football Team established themselves as an outstanding running team with offensive backs — James Carter, who finished 4th in the Montview League in rushing, Brian Choice, who finished 5th in the Montview League in rushing, and Offensive Linemen — Chriss Phipps, Manuel Rojo, Gilbert Rojas, Eric Lewis, James Aguirre, Joe Cruz and Jose Jimenez. The Bassett version of the Black and Gold Express was of high quality.

The key players who received all League Honors were: Brian Choice — 1st team Offensive Back — Claudio Munoz — 2nd team Defensive Back; Chriss Phipps Honorable Mention Defensive Lineman; Manuel Rojo — Honorable Mention Defensive Line Backer; Carlos Ephraim and Gary Haley — Honorable Mention Defensive Back.

The challenge of maintaining the high quality running game will be one of the priorities of the Future Football Team at Bassett High School.

High Expectations for next year

Although the freshman football team had a 3-4 record this season they have vowed to return with a better record next season. They did, however, do their best and that is the most important thing. Coaches Marches, Franco, and Valdez were very pleased with the team's performance.

They performed admirably against their opponents on the field of football competition. Capt. Martin Martinez led his team to the best of his abilities, overcoming obstacles as best they could. Martinez couldn't have done it without the help of his fellow captains Cruz Mendoza and Robert Lara, and other team members like Michael Pain. Asked what to expect from next year's Freshmen Football team, the coaches said, "Expect better defense and offense and expect more wins." With that in mind, next season should be action packed.

Is this all worth it?" a grim faced Leo Padilla asked himself.

▲ Steve Chavez, Martin Martinez, and Greg Banuelos challenge in the heat of the battle.

▲ Leo Padilla and James Pierre teach — It's a rough and tumble world.

▲ Willie Johnson (77) and (41) happy to see Max Johnson (28) back on the field

▲ Steve Chavez (15) and Martin Martinez (41) went to base

▲ Hernandez Carlos (86) hit the line acrossing the End Zone

▲ Johnson (42) and Johnson (7)

▼ The ball gets past C. Aguilar

"A Winning Season."

The Varsity Team of 1983 sees many new faces and will not have the game experience necessary to win the big ones, but the girls are looking forward to developing enough game experience to earn a berth in the C.I.F. tournament ... and hopefully gain the ability needed to put together a winning season

Junior Varsity Basketball

Six returning players gave a solid base to build the team upon. They faced a tough schedule this season but their determination and hard work helped them develop into a stronger team.

The team is made up of six Sophomores, three Freshman, and one Junior. Next year's team should be just as strong, if not stronger, with the majority of the team returning for a new season. Good Luck to all of the returning players and to the team in general.

"Way to go guys!"

This year the Boys' Varsity Basketball Team did fairly well. Coach Marches is looking forward to another year of coaching as well as seeing some of his varsity players return to another year of playing

This year's team consisted of three senior players and seven junior players. We can only guess that next year's team will be just as strong, if not stronger. Good luck to next year's team and the players on it.

A Learning Experience

There is only one junior varsity player on this year's team from last year's team

In the 82-83 season George Cervantes and Martin Rodrigues showed strong leadership for our young players, and with the outstanding efforts of Roland Lazaro and Rudy Martinez we experienced much growth in playing ability

Freshman are All Right.

If Bassett's freshman team plays up to coach Janis' expectations in the league, they could win it all. Led by Micheal Payne's 16 points-a game average, they ended the pre-season with a record of 4-3, defeating Edgewood, Pioneer, Santa Fe, and Montclair.

The team plays a very disciplined game on the court with Martin Martinez and Jesse Giddens quarterbacking the offense. When they need to rely on the outside shooting, Joe Hernandez, Eric Thomas and Abel Aveles take over. The inside game is led by Payne, Froilan, Duran, Renard, Hamilton and Leo Padilla. Hustling off the bench, come Julio Burgoin and James Pierre.

The basketball future at Bassett is very bright with these individuals coming up in the program.

Just Wait 'Til Next Year

This year's B.H.S. Water Polo players worked hard to defeat some of our league schools. All members of the Water Polo team worked hard with their coach to improve their game. Their dedication and determination showed in their performance in the pool. But as fate had it they only won 3 of their 14 matches. It's somewhat disappointing to have worked so hard and yet have a dismal season. They'll be back next year continuing their desire to win. It won't be easy, but one thing's for sure, they will do their very best in the field of competition.

When you think of Annual Staff you probably think it's a lot of fun and games. You might get the idea that the class is mainly sitting back, socializing, and looking through pictures. That's not true. Just ask any one of our staff members and they'll tell you it took time, patience, and a lot of hard work to meet our deadlines.

Being in Annual Staff for the past three years, I owe a lot of thanks to so many people. I would like to extend a special "Thank You" to my parents for their love, support and understanding. I would also like to express my deep appreciation to Joyce Clapthorn, my Co-Editor, for being such an invaluable associate in the preparation of this year's book. To Mrs. Schwartz for her advice on all my concerns. To my year's annual team, my teachers for excusing me from class to help on the yearbook. To Mrs. Aron for the extra effort and support she gave me, and last, but not least, to our staff: Iida, Sandra, David, Cynthia, Liz, Leisha, Jeff, Imelda, Mike, Lape, Richard, Frances, and Cecilia. Without them and their hard work, this year's 1983-1984 annual would not have been possible.

Day after day, the work load got heavier. The deadlines were tighter every minute. Staying at school until 10:00 p.m. and coming back on weekends just to meet a deadline surely wasn't my idea of how to spend my days during my senior year. But I stuck it out and did many of my other staff members. We made it through this hectic year. We made it through this hectic, but most enjoyable, year. It certainly has been an experience I will not soon forget.

In closing, I would like to dedicate this year's book to you, the student body, and especially to the graduating class of Nineteen Hundred and Eighty Three.

This is it!

After all the work has been completed for the yearbook, the time comes for Editors to acknowledge and thank every person who helped in its production, no matter how great or minute.

First and foremost, thank you IRMA CONTRERAS and THERESA ARGUJO for giving me your recommendation. Without it, I would not have had the opportunity of becoming Co-Editor. Your encouragement and enthusiasm motivated me highly to work on this yearbook.

WALLY AND WAYNE PHOTOGRAPHY. A special thanks is in order to the two of you for an endless amount of work and especially for being so understanding with us when we had numerous pictures to take in a short period of time.

KATHY BAILEY. Thank you for your big boost at the beginning of the year when we started with an almost entirely new staff. Your guidance and patience helped us to accomplish our deadlines.

MRS. AMORI. Thank you so much for taking out extra time from your hectic schedule to help us with our copy. Without your help, I'm sure we couldn't have written the excellent stories that we published in this yearbook.

ASSOCIATED STUDENT BODY. Thanks for, simply, letting us do things our way. I will never forget your help with publicity and full support throughout the production of the yearbook.

JODY BURTON. Thanks for all your help with the advertisements and believing in me when things seemed almost intolerable to overcome.

DEREK HARRISON. Thank you for listening to some of our strange and unusual problems. Your advice helped me out greatly and gave me new hope when I was at the end of my rope.

1982-83 YEARBOOK STAFF. Thank you Cecilia Rodriguez, Pat Morales, Vivette Fraijo, Robert Rivas, Mike Leal, David Luevano, Sandy Delgado, Richard Jordan, Lupe Ortega, Imelda Cabulong, and Eric Lewis for your work and cooperation. A special thanks to Liz Abejar, Jeff Cruz, Leshia Simmons, Lisa Eslava, Frances Mora, Ilda

Barraza, and Cynthia Velasquez for always helping out when we most desperately needed it. Overall, all of you did a wonderful job and without your help, we would not, of course, have a yearbook.

MRS. SCHWARTZ. Thank you for your organization and, most of all, your dedication. I sincerely appreciate the extra work and time that you put into helping us create this yearbook.

YVETTE MORALES. Thanks for the opportunity of working with you, for understanding when I had to leave for work or had too much homework to do, and for sharing all the responsibilities of the yearbook with me as Co-Editor. We had a few major obstacles to overcome this past year, but I'm sure you'll agree with me that all those headaches were worth the publication of this yearbook.

I would also like to thank my family and close friends for understanding why I couldn't always be around while I was working on the yearbook and somehow being there for me when all else "did me in." All of you provided me with the strength and inspiration to do my work.

FRESHMAN CLASS OF 1986, SOPHOMORE CLASS OF 1985, JUNIOR CLASS OF 1984, and last but certainly not least, the SENIOR CLASS OF 1983. We strove to produce a yearbook that would highlight every aspect of Bassett, from sports and academics to our student body and staff.

We did this, of course, with you in mind. I truly hope that all of you are as proud of this yearbook as I am, and always keep in mind that THIS ONE IS FOR YOU!

≡ THIS ONE'S FOR YOU ≡

Dear Chris,

June 15, 1983

Today was the last day of my senior year at Bisset High School. As I look back at this school year, I will always remember it this way because of all the clown things I went through.

We senior friends know that we were always going to be best friends because of the friendship we started. I'll never forget the times we had such a time. Some of the best times I spent were during lunch with my best buddies and we were always laughing during the short 40 minutes of lunch, doing Talking, Laughing, Stu.

I will always remember this year so well because of the times such as and that I participated in. This year I had a lot of fun. For my senior year, my favorite song was and my favorite group singer was and. And you wouldn't believe that by was my favorite song this year because it reminded me of Marlin.

There were so many good times I had this year. One memorable experience was when I

To top that off, I can recall that most embarrassing moment when I

You would think I have a great year, but I had this year playing my favorite sport or how much fun I had at my favorite dance when I went with and.

I will always think that is the best looking person on campus. No matter what says. Although I realize that this year over there are different things that I will miss. Such as my favorite teacher and. I'll also really miss the times I spent in my favorite class and.

and I used to really get in that class. I'll also miss the food I used to eat at lunchtime. I will not forget paying for my favorite food.

There are so many things that I leave behind at Bisset High School this year. Things like my nickname and my favorite saying But there are a lot of things I look forward to this summer and years to come such as and.

By now you probably know just about all the special highlights during my year at Bisset High School. I wrote this letter with you in my thoughts so I can share some of my most fond memories at Bisset High School during the 1982-1983 school year.

P.S.

I forgot to mention Uwe.

all hope you have nice summer. We are fun at home. And a hope you go back to school because miss you and hope to see you next year at Bassett. Take Care and God Bless You.
